

The Fitness Edition

Sport and wellness hot tubs

After training: The Fitness Edition brings sports and spas together

Anyone who is regularly active knows: the regeneration phase after exercise or sports is just as important as warming up beforehand. Ideally, training sessions should alternate between exercise and relaxation phases. So after any physical activity, there is practically nothing better than soaking in a Fitness Edition hot tub from the Villeroy & Boch Premium Line.

Built specifically to meet the needs of physically active people, our spas contribute to post-exercise recovery by:

- relaxing tendons and ligaments
- relaxing joints and muscles deeply
- massaging and strengthening the body, preventing sore muscles as well as stimulating blood circulation with a positive effect on the heart and circulation.

Every single one of the four Fitness Edition models is fitted with a specific selection of JetPaks. They combine massage and wellness functions that are best suited to regenerating the body. Additional pump capacity delivers maximum power to every seat. Different seat heights allow the jets to reach the stimulation zones of users regardless of their height.

And it is precisely this high level of individuality and flexibility that sports enthusiasts appreciate.

Individual sports massage: effective only with JetPak technology

A sports massage applies firmer pressure than a classic massage. This is of great benefit to people who are very physically active as they tend to have more muscle tension caused by intense activity. If they then suffer from limited joint mobility, a targeted, customised massage can restore it.

Ranging from a light and gentle massage to a powerful, deep-working action - JetPak technology creates the perfect framework for regeneration and relaxation:

- The massage jets can be smoothly controlled. Stronger or weaker - at exactly the right pressure desired by each individual.
- The different seat depths make it easy to find the perfect JetPak position.

This allows the massage jets to spread their soothing effect in the parts of the body they are targeting. From the feet, calves and legs up to the wrists, from the hips to the lower and upper back up to the neck and shoulders.

The sports massage, with its tougher touch, can also have a positive effect on office workers with tight hip flexors as sitting at the desk all day long often causes this joint to become less flexible and mobile. In addition to releasing muscle tension, sports massages stimulate circulation and support other processes such as removing metabolic byproducts in the body.

For sports enthusiasts and all the family:

From powerful to gentle – easy to control

The Fitness Edition hot tubs can also be used by all the family. A more gentle, moderate level, which can be smoothly controlled, is probably the better choice for kids and seniors. Simply reduce the pressure of the powerful sports massage to a gentle massage and set as desired.

The different seat depths combined with the replaceable JetPaks allow the massage points to be positioned exactly where needed. So everyone can find their perfect jet configuration, regardless of their height.

The Fitness Edition design:

Functional, modern and of high quality

The Fitness Edition from the Premium Line blends seamlessly in modern living environments –and is perfectly in line with the demands of an active lifestyle. Its Snow and Timber colour combination has a timeless, modern look.

Innovative technology

The unique JetPak technology allows users to put together their own massage and wellness configurations. Each of the four Fitness Edition models has its own layout, which can in fact be fitted out with more JetPaks.

Linear design

The Fitness Edition models complement any space and style thanks to their pared-down design.

High-quality materials

All Fitness Edition models are fitted with premium components. They boast very high quality and durability. Starting with the design of the stainless steel jets through to the interior and exterior wall lighting, waterfall and drink holders.

Comparative data of high-profile competitors, according to the California Energy Commission (CEC). Consumption depends on local conditions and use.

Environmentally friendly and energy efficient

Energy efficiency

90% of the pipes are located within the hot tub. Therefore, heat loss is extremely low as the pipes run mainly through the hot pool water. Villeroy & Boch hot tubs are fitted with foam all around, ensuring heat does not escape and energy consumption is reduced to a minimum. Consequently, the Villeroy & Boch hot tubs are among the most energy efficient available on the market.

Ideal power output

The unique construction makes long pipes, pipe branching and valves unnecessary. In turn, minimising interior friction. This increases jet performance to such an extent that all of the JetPaks can be operated at the same time and at maximum output. Moreover, the low number of pipes outside the hot tub minimises the risk of water damage.

Patented & certified

The high-quality Villeroy & Boch hot tubs have been manufactured to the familiar Villeroy & Boch standard and feature a stable and durable construction. The hot tubs have been tested and certified by independent parties (TÜV certificate). The patented JetPak technology has made Villeroy & Boch hot tubs among the most state-of-the-art available on the market.

Villeroy & Boch technology

Individuality as a defining principle

Reliable, durable and user-friendly

Hygienically clean

The modern filter and circulation system keeps the water fresh and clean at all times. The hot tub can be filtered up to 150 times a day and during the filter cycles - in front of and behind the JetPaks - continually cleaned when the pumps are operated. The highly efficient industrial-quality filters ensure silent and reliable use with a long service life and high energy efficiency. The ozonator fitted as standard ensures impeccable water quality and exemplary hygiene. It is absolutely maintenance-free and reduces the number of chemicals, such as chlorine.

Reliable & resistant

Villeroy & Boch hot tubs consist of a durable, robust and fully enclosed structure made from high-quality materials, which prevents moisture and pests from getting in. The unique construction, the robust plastic supports and the high-quality, UV-resistant outer shell panelling are a perfect combination for ensuring above-average load-bearing capacity and a long service life. Moreover, it significantly reduces noise and vibrations.

Innovative & unique

The Villeroy & Boch hot tubs can be set up with 18 different JetPaks. JetPaks are the replaceable seat back sections containing the jets and fit every seat in a Villeroy & Boch hot tub. So you have all the options you need when putting together the jets you want to pamper your body and relax your mind.
